

Computing Center wins Cornell Award

Posted At : June 16, 2013 8:39 PM | Posted By : Admin

Related Categories: Computing Center News, Cornell University

The Computing Center has been recognized with a Cornell University Top Supplier award for 2013. The awards were presented to Becky Martin and Mary Stazi at a Supplier Recognition Event hosted by Cornell Procurement Services on June 12, 2013.

This is the second year that Cornell has made awards to its top performing suppliers. The awards recognize the companies that have consistently performed best in product and service quality, pricing, order fulfillment, customer satisfaction, and social responsibility. Cornell campus customers are invited to evaluate supplier performance through a customer satisfaction survey. Cornell is the first university to recognize suppliers in this way.

The Computing Center has been a local supplier to Cornell for most of our history going back over thirty years. In addition to many other products and services we provide to Cornell, we are the primary supplier to the University for computer printer toners and inks. During the last 12 months, we have procured, managed and delivered over 10,000 printer toner and ink cartridges to the University.

For more information about supplier awards, click here for the Cornell "Pawprint" news article. pawprint.cornell.edu/