With The Computing Center joining with Synergy IT Solutions, we are able to offer all the same products and services that we've offered for the last 43+ years AND leverage Synergy's size and 50+ years of experience working with clients of all sizes, but in particular larger clients. This is an opportunity for us to showcase some of the enhanced technologies and solutions that we now can offer together.

The Hybrid Office is officially "a thing". Many clients had it before - people who could work or access company systems from home or while "on the road". In 2020, it became evident that people working remotely was hugely important, but as we've moved into 2021, company and organization employees being able to do both, essentially on demand, became table stakes - something that is a requirement - day in and day out. Synergy's "Technology Needs for the Now Normal" encapsulates what we are all trying to accomplish. See the link below to receive this important guide.

This guide will help you prepare for a smooth return-to-the-office by diving into:
